

How Do I Tell Someone if I Have a Problem?

It's OK to Make a Complaint

Telling someone what might not be working and what worries you in your residential placement is a good thing.

We want you to talk with us about what is happening in your placement so that we can improve how we take care of you.

You can tell your Problem or Concern or make a Complaint to an adult if:

- You Disagree or are Not Happy with the way you are being taken care of,
- You're Worried about the way another person in your home - a kid or a staff is treating you,
- You feel something should be provided to you and it isn't, or
- You want your staff or foster parent to help you solve your problem your way and not their way.

How Do I Tell Someone I Have a Problem?

Step One

If you are comfortable, talk about the problem or complaint with someone you trust or the other person involved. See if you can solve the problem.

Step Two

Ask for a copy of the 'I Have a Concern Form' to fill out. You can ask for help from someone you choose to help fill the form out.

If you need more help, please ask for it ***

* You can call the Provincial Advocate's Office at any time

When the form is done you can give it to:

Darlene Leggett

Broken Arrow will look into your concern and will get back to you about what is bothering you as soon as they talk to everyone involved. Any decision will be made with you.

All complaints and answers will be written down. A copy may be sent to your Child Welfare worker or their supervisor and a copy will be put in your file.

Who Can I Call if I Have a Problem in my Placement?

You can talk to people at any of these agencies.
They will:

- Provide you with information on your rights and responsibilities
- Help you make a complaint with your Residential Program
- Support you while you are going through the Complaints Process
